

POEM -1

Love has only a beginning;
It has no end.

The distance of time and space will not be able to separate us.

We may be away from each other's eyes, but we are never away from each other's heart and soul.

Love is that instrument which tunes two hearts to play
the same melody.

POEM - 2

The atmosphere is full of delicacy,
The flowers have blossomed,
And the night has smiled
Under the bright veil
which is full of shining stars.

Travelers who come after me
will have no cause to complain that they found no Light nor footsteps
on the path of love.

POEM - 3

O people of the world, show kindness and empathy,
Let the ruling passion of life be Truth.

Through fulfilment, treat the vices of the world,
Transform the earth, which has become hell into heaven.

If there is no compassion and mercy in the human body, There is no ray of light in the heart's lamp.

POEM - 4

A saint is one who although living in muddy waters
Is free of ego and doesn't drink the cup of selfishness.

He has no ill-feeling towards anyone and emits
the fragrance of love for all.

He is devoid of impurities and stains of sin.

The roaring river may crash against the rocks
a thousand times,
But the swan remains peaceful in turbulent times.

POEM - 5

Escaping from the eyes of the stars and the glances of the flowers,
Two hearts met in the waning
of the night.

The tavern of the heart is bubbling over with colors
and fragrances,
O Cupbearer, let the cup go round and round and round.

Today, Darshan sings in a new style with warmth and love;
May his voice light up lamps
of new melodies.